

CaseStack Announces Carrier and Warehouse Provider Awards

Honorees Chosen for Outstanding Performance in 2008

Santa Monica, Calif., February 25, 2009 - CaseStack, a technology-enabled supply chain solutions provider, announced today its 2008 provider award winners, recognizing the best of its warehousing and transportation providers.

The transportation winners included:

- LTL Carrier of the Year: Tony's Express, Inc.
- Truckload Provider of the Year: Command Transportation
- Transportation Solutions Carrier of the Year: USA Truck, Inc.
- Green Carrier of the Year: Schneider National, Inc.

All four companies were chosen by CaseStack's Transportation Services team members, having been recognized by the very people who work with them each day. Each team member participated in a detailed analysis of CaseStack's list of carriers. Providers were rated based on service levels, pricing, availability and quality. The data was then analyzed, ranking each provider in order of excellence for each category. They were presented with a crystal award and a certificate honoring their commitment to excellence.

In addition to the awards listed above, the CaseStack Logistics Services team awarded States Logistics with the Warehouse of the Year Award. The California-based third party logistics provider serves a client base of more than 100 with more than 2 million square feet of warehouse space.

"These awards are a direct result of each company's superior reputation for reliability, quality and customer service," said Dan Sanker, president and CEO of CaseStack. "We look forward to continuing our excellent relationships with all of the winners in 2009."
